Piedmont-Smith earns vote

To the editor:

I'm casting my city council District 5 vote for Isabel Piedmont-Smith, and I encourage other District 5 voters to do the same. I've made this choice without reservation because, during her time on the city council, Isabel has demonstrated her commitment to Bloomington through focused action and continual transparency.

In collaboration with her colleagues, Isabel develops solutions to our community's challenges that not only address immediate concerns but also prioritize future generations. This focus on sustainability works to ensure that our public funds are used responsibly and that maintaining the integrity of our shared environment is always a key consideration. Isabel's co-authorship of the Green Building Ordinance during her first term on the council is just one testament to her commitment to this principle.

Additionally, when Isabel is my city council representative, I know that I will never feel "in the dark" about important issues happening in my community. In order to facilitate open communication with those she represents, she holds monthly meetings for her District 5 constituents in which she reviews key city projects and pending legislation and responds to questions and concerns.

Because of her commitment to my beloved city, Isabel has, once again, earned my vote.
